

HOME HAPPENINGS

A case of chickenpox is reported in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Matison.

Edward Davis of Ohtown, who went to France two months ago, was killed in battle this week.

The annual reunion of the Second O. V. C. and 25th Ohio Battery will be held in Cleveland Oct. 19.

A Liberty Bond and do it now. The Farmers' National bank of Canfield is receiving subscriptions.

A daughter was born last Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Noble Robbins, a young couple well known in Canfield.

A daughter was born last Wednesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. John Penny who reside one mile east of the village.

The macadam road west of the village which was closed for weeks while being widened and resurfaced was thrown open for traffic Tuesday afternoon.

Coal may be lower in price than at present but it might be a wise precaution to have a few tons in storage for cold days that may come before prices tumble.

Some peach was that presented the Dispatch publisher the other day by P. A. Beardsley. It measured ten inches one way and ten and a quarter inches the other.

Every week five copies of the Dispatch are sent to the Army Y. M. C. A. at Camp Sherman. The copies are on file there and may be had by Mahoning county boys.

Powers Dickson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dickson, passed the physical examination a few days since and enlisted in the navy. He will report for duty next Monday.

The state highway commissioner will on Oct. 12 let the contract for two roads in this county, the Youngstown-Lowellville road, 1.50 miles, and the Canfield-Poland road, 1.88 miles.

Bids for carrying first and second class mail between Canfield and Youngstown close October 9. The service, which is greatly needed, is to begin November 1, if contract is awarded.

Cheaper bread has been promised for some time and it may be hard for the bakers to stave off a drop in price much longer. They were quick to boost prices when flour went up but evidently did not hear about it when it came down.

Until further notice meetings of the Red Cross Auxiliary for work will be held in the Presbyterian church basement Thursday afternoon instead of Wednesday, the change having been made necessary on account of heating the building.

There is a noticeable absence of young men on the village streets and in public places, due to the fact that they are in training camps. And as others depart we will realize more keenly what war means, not only to this community, but the country at large.

At the meeting of Council Monday night about the only business transacted was the passing of the pay ordinance and an ordinance fixing the fees of the mayor and marshal. A new concrete top was ordered put on the abandoned well in front of the Harroff hotel.

Wilber Wilson, in a letter to his father, W. C. Wilson, says he and the other Canfield boys are getting into the swing of Camp Sheridan and like it better there as time passes. Will be had military training at Ohio State University and soon after arrival in camp was made a corporal. He has the stuff in him for an officer and his promotion is likely to be steady.

Difficulty in securing prompt delivery of freight has been water on the wheels of Youngstown wholesale houses, local dealers having switched from Cleveland and Pittsburgh wholesalers to Youngstown houses that make prompt deliveries by auto trucks. Every day now great loads of supplies are brought to town and dumped into warehouses, saving annoying delays and drayage charges.

J. S. Harding of Elsworth township has sold his fine farm of 207½ acres on the south side of the Canfield-Elsworth road, a mile and a half east of Elsworth, to L. T. Peterson, general manager of the Republic Rubber Co. in Youngstown, for a price said to approximate $30,000. The farm is one of the finest in the county and has on it a large stone house, bank barn, horse barn, and numerous other buildings.

Last Sunday's New York Times contained a large picture of the Red Cross nurses of base hospital unit No. 31, who left Youngstown some time since, showing them drilling near New York. Miss Winifred Campbell of Canfield, night superintendent of the hospital, appears in the front rank. The nurses have been stationed on Ellis Island since last Saturday. The men of the unit are still in Allentown, Pa.

A team left standing near the Erie station Tuesday forenoon frightened and ran away. On West Main street the wagon struck a large stone in front of the residence of Mrs. Lucy Osborn and the rear wheels were left there. At the corner of Main and Broad streets the animals ran against a tree and were thrown down but got up and ran more than half a mile before being caught. The name of the owner was not learned.

While Thomas Scott was hauling coal from Greenford Monday he had occasion to leave the wagon which was standing in the road. When he returned he stepped on the hub of a front wheel, just as the horse started, and he was thrown under the wheel which passed over his breast, breaking several ribs and causing other injuries that may prove serious on account of Mr. Scott's advanced years. After the accident he nervously mounted the wagon and drove home, suffering all the time from great pain which still racks him.

James McCoy died unexpectedly Monday afternoon of cerebral hemorrhage while working on the Neff farm just across the line in Ellsworth township. Deceased was a son of John and Mary McCoy and was born in Canfield March 6, 1866, consequently was in the 51st year of his age. Rev. and Mrs. Hollister were given a most cordial reception at the close of the service after which the ladies of the church served refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed. Worth Their Weight in Gold
No man can do his best when suffering from backache, rheumatic pains, swollen joints or sore muscles. B. H. Stone, 840 N. 2d St., Reading, Pa., writes: "For months I was unable to attend to business. I used Foley Kidney Pills and soon the pains and aches were gone. They are worth their weight in gold to me." F. A. Morris, Canfield—adv.

WOMEN HAVE HOARDING HABIT
It is Always Hard for Them to Part With Useless Things Which They Couldn't Give Away.

"Every time I think of the way our American troops are slipping away from our shores and landing unexpectedly 'somewhere in France' I realize more and more how very differently men manage things, after all," remarked the impatient woman, according to the Detroit Free Press.

"Just imagine trying to send a contingent of women abroad in such fashion. Why, even the nurses who are leaving us are expected to go prepared with clothing and supplies enough to last them two years, and yet the men can go with small provision for their needs and not be a bit bothered at it, either."

"A chap I know rushed in to say good-by to me as he was leaving for a training camp and he was able to settle all his business in a few hours and all he had to do at his rooming place was pack his clothes in a suitcase and move out in an hour's time."

"And think how long it would take either one of us to dispose of our second-hand belongings and rid our wardrobes of the unessential we've left hanging in the front room hope that the styles will bring them back again sometime before the moths dispose of them for us."

"And we women are always cluttering up a place with keepsakes that we'd hate like the mischief to throw away and we couldn't give them away for love nor money, either."
